

Shelbyville declares "governmental control war" on Northwestern Shelby County!

...Scott and the gang (you know, the chosen ones), are hungry!

...All Moral and Brandywine Township folks hide the kids, pets, land and your pocketbooks!

...and they will attack from all directions!

"...Shelbyville Mayor Scott Furgeson contends the TIF opposition was limited, but the city is throwing rural residents a bone. Northwestern Schools will get $1 million lump-sum payment from the TIF district."

Indianapolis Business Journal - 4/20/09

...Limited opposition? Are you serious Scott? Was he ever at any of the Fairland TIF meetings? ...answer, NO!...AND we are STILL WAITING ON that cool MILLION for OUR schools!

"Shelbyville's west-side connector would run for 3.69 miles through unincorporated farmland. Starting at Mausoleum Road, west of Shelbyville, the two lanes would take industrial-park traffic north to Fairland Road, one-half mile west of Exit 109, essentially creating a back door to the interstate."

Although Shelbyville may resort to EMINENT DOMAIN to acquire the right-of way for the west-side connector, Furgeson said Fairland shouldn't fear encroachment.

"We have no plans to grow or expand past where this road is being developed," he said.

Indianapolis Business Journal - 4/20/09

WOW!...The proposed SHELBYVILLE connector Highway a half mile WEST of the Fairland EXIT and built by EMINENT DOMAIN no less(!)...and they WILL expand around that road, yet Furgeson said, "Fairland shouldn't fear encroachment"!...are you serious Scott! ...But thanks for the warning anyway!

"Despite Fairland's fledgling state, Furgeson, Shelbyville's mayor, said he expects to see some competition between the two communities over future development.

"They have a great opportunity to grow", he said. "They're roughly 2-1/2 miles from (Interstate) 74. That road that leads into Fairland is a very nice road, and it's ripe for development".

Indianapolis Business Journal - 4/20/09

Thanks again for the warning Scott about the future "competition". We can't help but notice how much you like The Fairland Road...but for the record, it's more like around 1.5 miles from Fairland to I-74. But since you almost never go to the west side of the Fairland Exit, we will forgive you on that one!
